

Travel industry had months to prepare for half-term rush, minister says

A minister has said the travel industry has had months to prepare for the half-term rush and should have had staff in place – as hundreds of flights have been cancelled...

Read More